

Peter Vidmar

"I do want to make a special point to acknowledge Peter Vidmar's performance. He was perfect - genuine, passionate, dynamic and obviously, very skillful. He really drove our key message home perfectly. On a personal note let me also say that I have never (I mean never) worked with a more gracious and sincere speaker as Peter. He not only did a great job fulfilling his speaking obligation, he spent the entire evening with our team at the bowling alley and then stuck around late in the evening talking to everyone in the lobby. And, late in the evening when I was speaking with three managers I sensed someone off to my side -- it was Peter -- he was patiently waiting for me to finish speaking to once again say thank you. Again, I have NEVER met anyone so genuine and gracious as Peter. Thank you! We will use him again."

Hilton Hotels

"Peter exceeded our expectations. He was able to blend just enough Allstate into his presentation that he got buy in from the audience in the first few moments. The audience laughed, they applauded and better yet, I'm hearing about his message points from ROV. His message was a real fit for our new business plan."

Allstate Insurance Co.

"Working with Peter was fantastic. He took the time to prepare for the presentation, whether it was participating on a conference call with our team, to arriving ahead of time to meet people in the business and understand how it works. His presentation was extremely well-received and he made himself available to meet and greet afterwards. Everything went perfectly!"

General Electric Consumer Finance

"Hello, Peter, my name is Celia Rafalko and we met at a Wachovia Securities conference in June, 1994. At the time, I was very taken with your presentation and commented to you in particular on the point about practicing the hard parts longer (my paraphrasing). I mentioned to you how this advice was going to help me in an upcoming horse competition. As things happened with horses, mine became ill and has been unable to compete for the past two years. When I finally got him going again at the beginning of this year, I remembered your advice and worked away at those things that had stumped us before - the more difficult movements. We just did our first show in two years and had a fantastic outcome. Thanks for your advice - your presentation made a difference for me and I have remembered it all this time."

Wachovia Securities

"Thank you for your most entertaining and inspiring presentation! As our opening keynote speaker, you set the bar for all those who followed you on the platform. The responses we have received from our attendees after the convention only verify that you made a lasting and memorable impression on our members. Peter, you inspired and energized them, while providing maximum entertainment our attendees expect from an opening keynoter."

You impressed our organization with your passion and enthusiasm for something you believe in and how that determination created your success in the Olympics and beyond. Your presence made our meeting very, very special. Although you’ve been a perennial speaker at our Northwestern Mutual regional meetings, your message is timeless and is more powerful each time.”

“Peter, thank you for being so approachable and easy to work with. Your presentation exceeded our expectations. I can't think of anything that you could do to improve it. You were very good at bringing the audience up, taking them down, and adding humor to make your points. They loved it. The overall reaction to your program has been extremely positive and your presentation rated the highest on our survey. You also did an outstanding job of tailoring your approach to the message of the conference and our particular audience.”
